

UNUSUAL AND INTERESTING OCCUPATIONS OF PLEASURE AND PROFIT

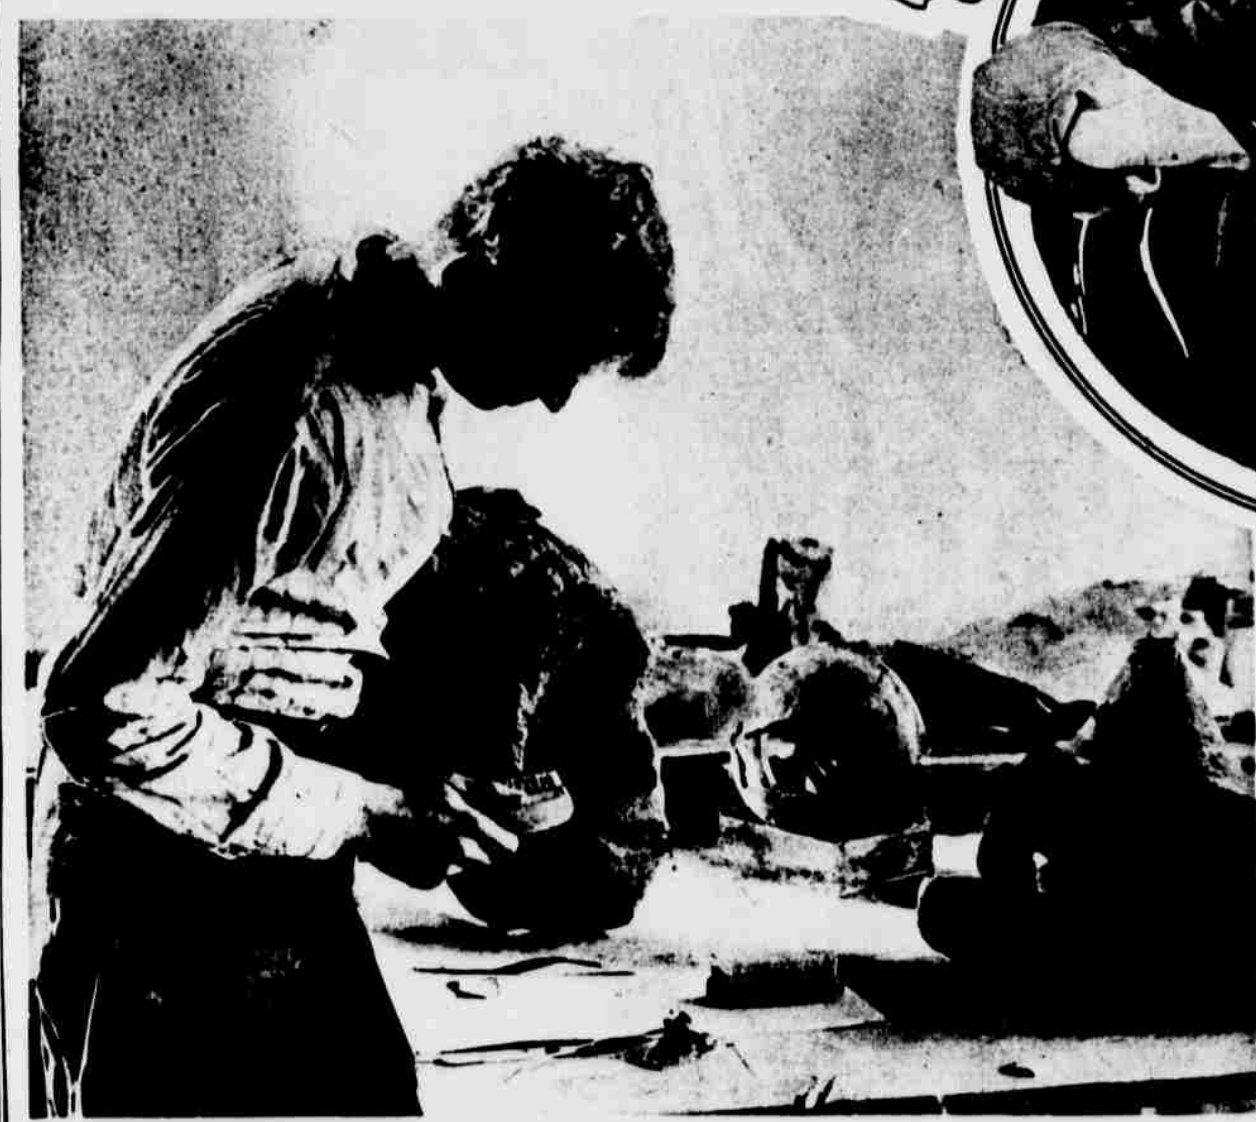

Miss Carroll McComas, Broadway star, ardent student of butterflies, arranging specimens.

A woman's delicate touch is needed for handling of delicate specimens that a breath, almost, would spoil.

Actress who spends her summer holidays gathering beautiful moths and butterflies.

Cleaning an Iroquois stone carving used as mask by medicine men, found near headwaters of the Susquehanna, in New York.

William C. Orchard of the American Museum of Natural History is expert in restoring Indian relics.

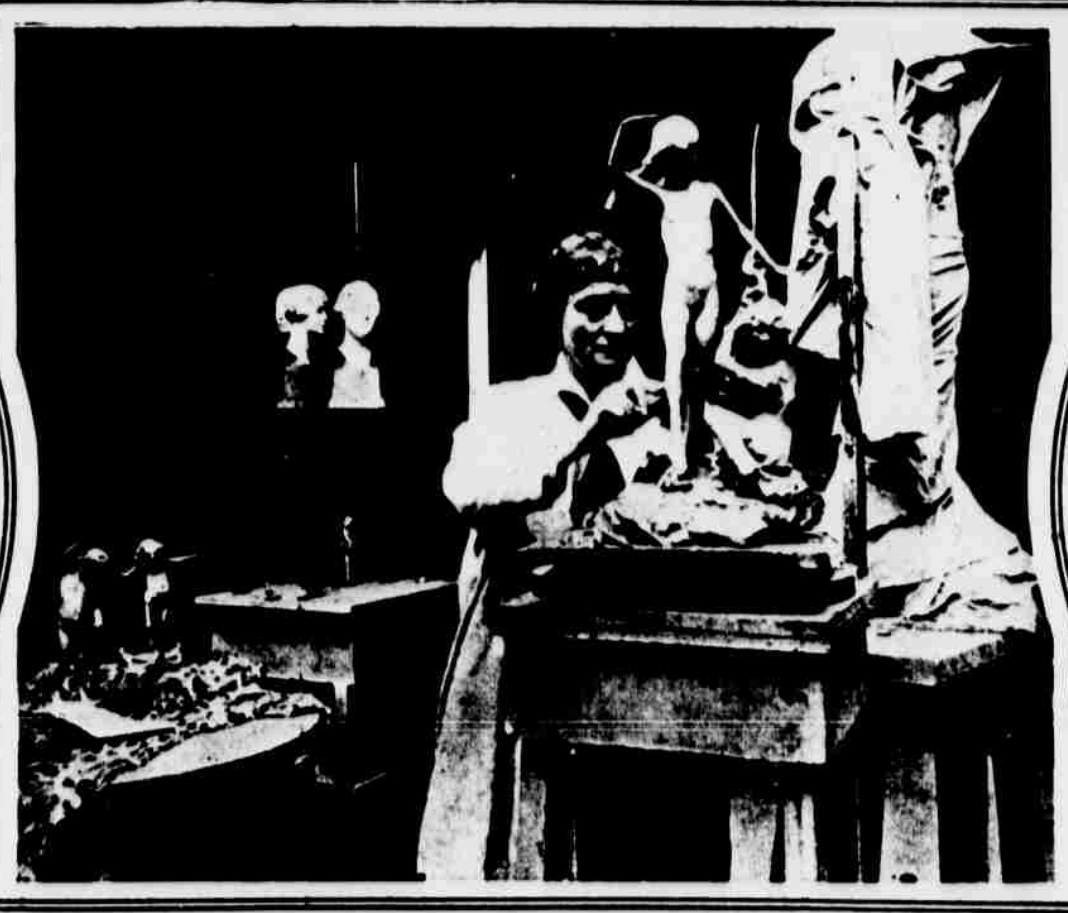

Copyright, Underwood & Underwood.

Restoring head of an Indian mummy found in Utah. Note other relics from the same neighborhood and of like antiquity.

Obverse—Allogorical representation of the baby State being welcomed in the Union.

Janet Scudder, who designed the Medallic Art Company's medal ordered by the Legislature to commemorate Indiana's admission as a State.

Reverse—State seal: a forest, and woodman felling a tree, a buffalo leaving the forest and fleeing west.